

Special Extension Program Bali, Indonesia (3 Days / 2 Nights)

DESTINATION INFORMATION – BALI

Thousands of islands make up the Republic of Indonesia, dividing the Indian Ocean from the Pacific, and Southeast Asia from Australia.

The island stretches approximately 140 km from east to west and 80 km from north to south. Running east to west are a string of volcanic mountains. The tallest is Gunung Agung, which last erupted in 1963 and is 3,142m at its highest point. The rich volcanic soil and healthy monsoon season make this island extremely fertile and a range of crops are grown here. The wide and gently sloping southern regions play host to Bali’s famed rice terraces, among some of the most spectacular in the world. In the hilly, northern coastal region, the main produce is coffee, copra, spices, vegetables, cattle and rice.
